Being brave has paid off in my case. I decided to leave a promising and low-risk career as a lawyer to be self-consistent – my passion has always been journalism. After one year in the Netherlands studying a MA in Journalism and writing a thesis about new digital journalism formats, I am nowadays putting my knowledge and passion into practice at Forbes México. To me, now life makes sense – I used to WORK as a lawyer. Now I AM a journalist. My goal is to learn how to do things well done, becoming an extraordinary journalist and tell the world to the people.
